PERSONAL PROFILE

Graduate in Computer Engineering with a focus on front-end web development. Passionate about creating attractive and functional interfaces, with experience in projects using HTML, CSS, and JavaScript. I'm eager to continue growing as a front-end web developer in a collaborative and creative environment, while also expanding my knowledge in back-end development to gain a full understanding of the web development lifecycle.

In addition, I've developed an interest in the mathematical side of my studies, especially in cryptography, which led me to combine both areas in my final degree project, focused on cryptography and quantum computing.

I'm currently taking online courses to strengthen my skills and earn certifications.
